JAMES S. GWIN, UNITED STATES DISTRICT JUDGE:

On September 14, 2020, Plaintiff Jeremiah Ernesto Garza filed a complaint challenging Defendant Commissioner of Social Security's decision to deny Garza benefits under the Social Security Act.¹ Garza filed an in forma pauperis application.² The Court referred the matter to Magistrate Judge Thomas M. Parker.

On September 14, 2020, Magistrate Judge Parker issued a Report and Recommendation ("R&R") finding that Garza could pay the necessary case filing fees, making in forma pauperis relief inappropriate.³ Objections to the R&R were due by September 29, 2020.⁴ Plaintiff Garza filed no objections.

The Federal Magistrates Act requires a district court to conduct a de novo review only of those portions of an R&R to which the parties have made an objection.⁵ Failure to timely object waives a party's right to appeal the magistrate's report.⁶ Where a party does not object to the R&R, a district court may adopt it without review.⁷

Further, this Court has examined Plaintiff Garza's in forma pauperis application and believes it should be denied. The application indicates that Garza and his spouse jointly make about $3,700 a month against only $2,600 in monthly expenses. Garza also has $7,000 in a checking account and a $24,000 retirement account, in addition to owning a home and car. The Court therefore agrees with the R&R's conclusion that Garza has not demonstrated that he is "unable to pay [his court] fees or give security therefor."⁸

Accordingly, in light of Plaintiff Garza's decision not to object to the R&R in this case and his application's lack of merit, the Court ADOPTS Magistrate Judge Parker's R&R, incorporates it as if fully restated herein, and DENIES Plaintiff Garza's in forma pauperis application.

IT IS SO ORDERED.
